Last Updated: September 23, 2026

At Dr. Nox & Associates, we value your privacy and respect the trust you place in us. We collect only the information you voluntarily provide when contacting us through our website, by phone, or by email.

We use this information to respond to your inquiries, provide requested products and services, communicate regarding ongoing projects or technical support, and improve the services we offer. We do not sell, rent, or share your personal information with third parties for marketing purposes.

Some services, including domain registration, web hosting, payment processing, remote support, and managed IT services, are provided through trusted third-party providers. Those services are governed by the privacy policies and terms of their respective providers.

If you have any questions about this Privacy Policy or would like to request access to, update, or remove the personal information we have on file, please contact us.
